

All Wolters Kluwer authors must use RightsLink® to apply for permissions when reusing their own content, if the intended use is not on this list below. The following reuse is free of charge (non-commercial / non-for-profit purposes):

Images/figures (1 figure, 1 abstract or 1 excerpt)

1. Re-publication in other journals / books with another STM Permissions Guidelines Signatory Publisher (Elsevier, Nature, BMJ, Springer etc.) or non-STM Permissions Guidelines Signatory Publisher <http://www.stm-assoc.org/copyright-legal-affairs/permissions/permissions-guidelines/>
2. Reuse in a presentation at a conference or seminar in an electronic format
3. Reuse in a newsletter for academic purposes if the number of copies does not exceed 100 (print and electronic format)
4. Make photocopies up to 100 copies

Full-text article

1. Display in a presentation at a conference or seminar (electronic format)
2. Reuse in classroom material if the number of students per course does not exceed 100 (print and electronic format)
3. Make photocopies up to 100 copies (print and online format)
4. Posting it on institution's repositories or personal blog: please see the terms in your Copyright Transfer Agreement which you have signed at the time of submission
5. Reuse in a dissertation/ thesis- without modification. If you want to post your dissertation/ thesis to your institutional repository please see point 4 here above

Please note that it is Wolters Kluwer's policy not to allow posting of your article in pdf format on social site networks.

Please see the table below, which indicates what you can or can't do when requesting to share your article.

	Pre-print The accepted author manuscript after peer-review	Published journal article in pdf document
For classroom teaching purposes	Yes if the number of copies does not exceed 100 (print and electronic format)	Yes if the number of copies does not exceed 100 (print and electronic format)
At a conference	Yes Only on a display Max 100 copies in print	Yes Only on a display Max 100 copies in print
By email	Yes	NO
On my institutional repository	Yes	No But you can add the link to the article on the Journal's website
On a personal blog or website	Yes	No But you can add the link to the article on the Journal's website
On social media sites and social sites networks such as Facebook, Twitter, Linked-in	No But you can add the link to the article on the Journal's website	No But you can add the link to the article on the Journal's website

All Wolters Kluwer author must use Rightslink® to apply for permissions when reusing their own content for all commercial, For-Profit re-use, even for educational material sponsored by pharmaceutical companies and it will be subject to fees.

Authors must refer to their own copyright transfer agreement (CTA) for more information regarding the embargo period relating to the reuse of the pre-print and final manuscript.

Open Access Articles -

Below is a quick reference guide of the permitted reuse of your article. No need to use Rightslink®

User License	Distribute to colleagues	Post to open websites - non commercial -	Reuse of portions or extracts from the article in other works	‘Sell’ or re-use for “commercial purposes”?	Re-user can choose different license	Text & Data Mining
CC BY	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes
CC BY NC SA	Yes	Yes	Yes	No	No	Yes
CC BY NC ND (non - commercial/ non-derivative)	Yes	Yes	No	No	No	No

For more information about Open Access please see this document

We require that all authors always include a full acknowledgement. Example: AIDS: 13 November 2013 - Volume 27 - Issue 17 - p 2679-2689. Wolters Kluwer Health©

Please contact healthpermissions@wolterskluwer.com if you have any questions