IT'S GOOD to stand behind an angler. Behind and maybe a little to the left. At Redington, we stand behind the men and women who buy our rods, reels, waders, boots and apparel with a comprehensive warranty policy. If your Redington product becomes damaged or requires repair, we will promptly repair or replace it (see warranty policy at redington.com/warranty_policy.php)

FISHING HAS GIVEN us more than we can repay, but we're trying anyway. Redington is proud to sponsor Trout Unlimited, The Federation of Fly Fishers and the Take Me Fishing Program. All Redington employees are encouraged to become part of the Recreational Boating & Fishing Foundation's Anglers Legacy, a program in which avid anglers pledge to take a novice fishing at least once a year.

Redington is also a supporter of Trout Unlimited's campaign to prevent the creation of a massive open pit and hard rock mining district in Bristol Bay, Alaska. Bristol Bay is home to the world's most productive salmon fishery and is a thriving ecosystem that currently provides jobs, sustenance and life to the people and animals of an entire region, and we're proud to help defend it.

REDINGTON®

Maybe you're a stock broker in Dallas.
Or maybe a bartender in Centralia, Washington. You might fish for permit in the Yucatan. Or perhaps for carp in the Los Angeles River.

HOWEVER YOU came to fly fishing, however long ago, you're here for the same reasons we're all here. Okay, so a few of our brethren are a bit caught up in the flash. But most of us are in it for that thing. You know, that thing that starts as soon as you smell the water. That thing that happens when your indicator dips. That thing that's still kicking when darkness descends and you can't see your fly and normal people are grilling a steak but you're thinking you're good for another ten casts.

Yep. That thing.

That's why we make Redington.

RODS

Switch B A

CPX

Big fish. Big water. Long casts. The CPX rods are ready for all of it. Red.Core design, 57-million modulus Toray graphite, and Pac-Bay hard chrome snake guides are the backbone of these tough rods. And an ultra-light woven graphite reel seat shaves weight, making the CPX feel like a much lighter rod.

Predator

New for 2009, the Redington Predator rods are available in four models from 6 to 10 weight. Fast, powerful and accurate, these rods are perfect tools not only for nailing casts in difficult areas like tight banks and mangrove stands, but also for having the power and resilience to battle the fish once it's hooked. Each of these 4-piece rods is constructed of premium Toray graphite and finished with a natural clear coat, silver trim and rust-colored thread wraps. Anodized machined aluminum reel seats stand up to corrosion and hidden hook keepers in the reel seat take the worry out of hikes through trees and underbrush.

RODS

RS4

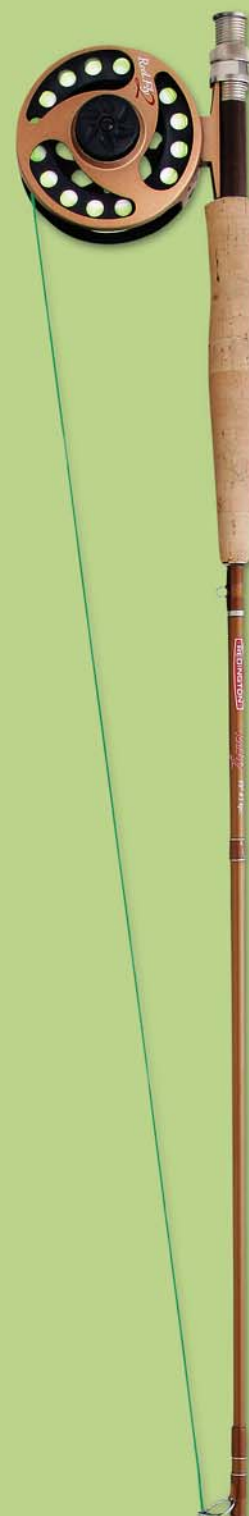

Our line of RS4 rods includes 29 models, from 3 to 12 weight and even Spey, for you two-handers out there. Each rod is constructed of 51-million modulus Toray graphite and fitted with Pac Bay Aluminum Oxide stripping guides. Moss-colored blanks, silver trim wraps and alignment dots make for handsome finishes on all of these rods. Saltwater models feature anodized aluminum reel seats. Finished off with AAA Portuguese cork, the RS4 rods feel good in your hand long after your feet have gotten cold.
