

REDINGTON®

rods, reels and apparel for anyone.

● Fly Rods / Core Performance Series

The new rod on the block. With all the requisite vim and vigor of any new, hotshot angler.

Gear geeks, rejoice! You of all people know that no company is complete without a new lineup for the new season. Our Core Performance Series (CPS) rods deliver. An all-new addition to Redington for 2005, these rods are the finest quality we make and we challenge all anglers to put them to the test in whatever conditions you can conjure. CPS rods are built with extra fast action, for precise casts and battling big fish, and will put up a pretty good fight to be your favorite rod too.

Fly Rods / RS3 Series

High performance rods, upgraded for 2005. Still the nemesis of fish everywhere.

Formerly the RS2, we've made some improvements to Redington's classic high performance rod but kept the price the same. Available in two- and four-piece models, the RS3 has fine finishes and detail you'd only expect from a higher priced rod. But more importantly, the RS3 is smooth, tough and reliable. Fish will be bummed.

Fly Rods / Wayfarer Series

A high performance compact five-piece for easy travels. Even if you don't have a passport,

You don't have to fly halfway around the world to appreciate a good travel rod. They're just as useful for tucking under the seat of your car or sneaking out of the house for an afternoon of solitude. Broken down into five pieces and stored in the included Wayfarer rod tube, the total package measures just 26 inches long. At that size, you can keep it in your desk drawer for a few casts in the park during lunch.

Fly Rods / Red.Fly Series

Fine all-around rods for every fishing situation. Collect the whole set.

One rod is great. More than one is better. Purchase a three-weight and fishing that tiny creek along your favorite hiking trail just got a whole lot more interesting. Or get an eight-weight with a sinking line and you've got a whole new perspective on big browns. No matter which model you choose, Red.Fly rods are a great choice for a dependable all-around fly rod. And if you're the kind of person that likes having more than one, believe us—it's much easier to justify having six rods when they're priced like this.

It's just time to chuck some bait.

If there's one thing all experienced fishermen like to be, it's prepared. Having a few good spinning and casting rods in your arsenal is a huge part of that equation. In fact, for a lot of folks, it's the only part of the equation. Our rods are built for precision casts no matter what the weather is doing, with major fighting power in a wide variety of rod lengths, line weights and handle options. Whether you're after panfish or sharks, our RFX Series spinning and casting rods help get fish in the boat.
