

HOW TO REQUEST PERMISSION USING RIGHTSLINK

Author Reuse Only

Wolters Kluwer has partnered with Copyright Clearance Center to provide permission for our products through the RightsLink service. Please see below the necessary steps to submit a permission request via RightsLink. As author of the Lippincott content, you may use certain portions of your article in new sources without a fee. To learn more, visit: Lippincott Author Permissions Guidelines.

If you have questions about how to submit your request, or require assistance please contact permissions@lww.com.

Step 1:

To submit a request please proceed to the online publication of the article from which you would like to borrow content. All of our journals are hosted on your journals webpage, and can be located from the home screen.

Please visit <http://journals.lww.com>.

The screenshot shows the journals.lww.com website. At the top, there is a search bar labeled "Search All Journals" and a "Login" button. Below the search bar, there are two tabs: "Journals A-Z" and "Journals By Specialty". A navigation bar contains letters A through Z and "Other". The main content area displays "LWW Journals - Beginning with A" with a pagination control showing "1" and "2". Three journal entries are listed:

Step 2:

Once you have located the journal that your article is published in, click on the title of the journal. You will be redirected to the journal's website. From here, you can search for the article you are looking for by entering the title of the article in the search bar or searching by the volume and issue of the journal.

Indicated below in green.

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar of the Academic Medicine website. The 'Articles & Issues' dropdown menu and the search bar are highlighted with green boxes. The search bar contains the text 'Enter Keywords' and a magnifying glass icon. The website header includes the journal title 'ACADEMIC MEDICINE', the AAMC logo, and the Wolters Kluwer logo with navigation links for Account, Login, Subscribe, and Help.

Step 3:

To request permission from the article, please review the options listed under the Article Tools panel to the right of the screen. Here you will see the option to Request Permissions.

Indicated below in green.

The screenshot shows the article page for 'Acknowledgment of Academic Medicine Reviewers'. The 'Article Tools' panel on the right side of the page is highlighted with a green box, and the 'Request Permissions' option is also highlighted with a green box. The panel includes options for View Full Text, Article as PDF (228 KB), Article as EPUB, Print this Article, Add to My Favorites, Export to Citation Manager, Alert Me When Cited, and Request Permissions. The main content area shows the article title and navigation links for Previous Abstract and Next Abstract.

Step 4:

This link will direct you to the RightsLink submission form. Once here you can log into your RightsLink account, or register your RightsLink account if you do not already have one. You must be logged into your account to submit a request (indicated below in green). The form will present all of the available options for borrowing content. Please select the options that best fit your reuse.
