

LIPPINCOTT JOURNAL PORTFOLIO

AUTHOR PERMISSION GUIDELINES

Printable Version

As author of the Lippincott published article, you are entitled to use your full article, or portions of your article in certain sources without a fee. Please see below the gratis options available for your Final Peer-Reviewed Manuscript, Final Published Article, and Portions of your article (figures, tables, illustrations, excerpt, abstract). The options below are for non-profit and non-commercial reuses only.

If your type of use is not listed, please submit a request via RightsLink or contact permissions@lww.com.

FINAL PEER-REVIEWED MANUSCRIPT (FPRM)

Your Final Peer-Reviewed Manuscript is the manuscript that was submitted to Lippincott for publication review. This manuscript has not been edited or formatted by Lippincott.

You may post your FPRM on your employer's intranet site 12 months after the manuscript has been published in a Lippincott journal.*

You may post your FPRM on your personal blog/website 12 months after the manuscript has been published in a Lippincott journal.*

You may post your FPRM on Scholarly Collaboration Networks (SCNs) that endorse the STM Sharing Principles 12 months after the manuscript has been published in a Lippincott journal.*

You may post your FPRM on your academic institution's internal repository in your thesis/dissertation 12 months after the manuscript is published in a Lippincott journal.*

You may present your FPRM at a conference, seminar etc.

You may include your FPRM in classroom materials or in an academic course pack.

FINAL PUBLISHED ARTICLE

Your Final Published Article is the final, published version of your manuscript. This version of your article has been edited, formatted, and published in a Lippincott journal.

You may include your Final Published Article in classroom materials or academic course pack.

You may use your Final Published Article in a non-profit Continuing Medical Education course.

You may make 100 photocopies of your Final Published Article.

To use content, submit a request via RightsLink for review by Lippincott's Permissions Team.
To learn how to submit a request, please click here: How to Request Permission

*The final peer-reviewed manuscript may not be updated or replaced with a proof of the final article. The final peer-reviewed manuscript must appear alongside the following notice: "This is a non-final version of an article published in final form in (provide complete journal citation)." Upon NIH request, it remains the legal responsibility of the author to confirm with NIH the provenance of his/her manuscript for purposes of deposit. Author may not deposit articles him/herself. The final peer-reviewed manuscript already transmitted to NIH may not be altered. To learn more: NIH Public Access Policy. Lippincott policy prohibits posting articles and portions of articles on social networking websites. Please refer to your Copyright Transfer Agreement before applying to use content in a new source.

To learn more about options available for sharing your article in line with copyright law, please visit <http://www.howcanishareit.com/>.

LIPPINCOTT JOURNAL PORTFOLIO

AUTHOR PERMISSION GUIDELINES

Printable Version

If your type of use is not listed, please submit a request via RightsLink or contact permissions@lww.com.

PORTIONS

You may use 2 of the following at no cost: Figure, Table, Illustration, 400 Words, Abstract

You may present 2 Portions at a conference, seminar etc.

You may include 2 Portions in classroom materials or in an academic course pack.

You may publish 2 Portions in a book or journal article.

You may create 100 photocopies of 2 Portions.

You may reuse 2 Portions in your thesis/dissertation.

You may post 2 Portions on your personal blog/website.

You may post 2 Portions on your institution's repository

You may include 2 Portions in a non-profit Continuing Medical Education Course

To use content, submit a request via RightsLink for review by Lippincott's Permissions Team.
To learn how to submit a request, please click here: How to Request Permission

OPEN ACCESS - CREATIVE COMMONS LICENSES

Open Access is the free, immediate, online access for any online user. It is digital, scholarly material published in peer-reviewed journals. Certain reuses can be limited depending on the type of license your article is published under.

	BY	BY SA	BY ND	BY NC	BY NC SA	BY NC ND
Permission is required to reuse content	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
Proper attribution to the original publication is required.	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
If you modify or alter the content for reuse, it must be published under the same license.		✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
The content may not be used for commercial purposes. Only non-commercial reuses are permitted.					✓	✓

To learn more: <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/>

*The final peer-reviewed manuscript may not be updated or replaced with a proof of the final article. The final peer-reviewed manuscript must appear alongside the following notice: "This is a non-final version of an article published in final form in (provide complete journal citation)." Upon NIH request, it remains the legal responsibility of the author to confirm with NIH the provenance of his/her manuscript for purposes of deposit. Author may not deposit articles him/herself. The final peer-reviewed manuscript already transmitted to NIH may not be altered. To learn more: NIH Public Access Policy. Lippincott policy prohibits posting articles and portions of articles on social networking websites. Please refer to your Copyright Transfer Agreement before applying to use content in a new source.

To learn more about options available for sharing your article in line with copyright law, please visit <http://www.howcanishareit.com/>.